FRENCH PLAYS APPRECIATED ON SATURDAY

Large Attendance at Royal Victoria College

ACTING WELL DONE

Three Plays Were Given by Advanced Students

Three short French plays were presented before a large and enthusiastic audience last Saturday night in the Convocation Hall of the R.V.C. The Department of Modern Languages has been working hard for a considerable time and from the splendid showing which some of the senior students made at their annual dramatic evening, a great deal of praise is due not only to the actors and actresses but also to the professors who took such a kindly interest in its welfare. Among those in attendance were numerous visitors from the Alliance Francaise, Universite de Montreal and the French Consulate. Members of the staff of the university showed their appreciation by turning out as well.

The first sketch was "Les Couteaux du Medoc" by Bernard, put on by three students under the direction of Mlle. Touren of the Royal Victoria College. In this opening scene the players displayed a decided command of the French tongue and a keen understanding of their national characteristics.

"La Joie Fait Peur" had a larger caste than the opening one, while it was of a different character from the following. Nearly all of those taking part in this play have figured in previous dramatic entertainments at McGill both in English and French and for the most part have proved this both in diction and action. Prof. du Roure supervised the enacting of this sketch.

The third and last item of the program was given under the direction of Dr. H. Walter, head of the Department of Modern Languages and reflects considerable credit upon his sincere work. Those who witnessed the play which his students gave last year, "La Cagnotte," will remember how successful it was. "Le Commissaire Est Bon Enfant" provided much mirth.

STAFF LOST TO McGILL WHITES

Score 17—13 in Close Indoor Baseball Game

The McGill Whites on Saturday afternoon journeyed out to Macdonald College and manager to defeat the home team in a closely contested game of baseball by the score of 17-13.

The Macdonald staff had the advantage in the opening innings and at the end of the fifth were two runs in the lead. The Whites by that time however had accustomed themselves to the smallness of the floor and forged ahead by means of a batting rally to a comfortable lead, which they maintained till the end of the game.

The McGill Whites went to bat first and in the initial inning they scored two runs, Wight and Grassick crossing the plate after making safe hits. The staff were only able to score once in their turn at bat, Raymond, their first man up, doing the trick.

In the second inning the Whites forged ahead into a temporary lead, amassing the total of five runs.

PRESBYTERIAN COLLEGE HAD GREAT EVENT

Guests of Mrs. Williams, Lady Superintendent

GOOD MUSIC

About Thirty-five Couples Enjoyed Pleasant Evening

The feast of "ould Saint Pathrick" was observed in right royal fashion last Friday evening when some thirty-five residents of the Presbyterian College and their fair partners were the guests of Mrs. Williams, the Lady Superintendent. Just exactly one year before the college had held such a function and to make it a custom Mrs. Williams tendered the party to the men this year. The two parties have set a very high standard for all entertainments of a like nature in the future and any that approach nearly to it are certain to be most enjoyable indeed.

The dining room of the college, where the main part of the program was staged, was tastefully decorated with festoons of streamers of seasonal coloring, with clusters of balloons hanging temptingly out of reach—until the enthusiasm added inches to the standing high jump record of McGill. Even the maids were suitably bonnetted with dainty Irish caps of real emerald hue. And as for the sitting-out places—well they have anything around McGill put to shame for real comfort and solitude, there being so many that one can nearly always find one to one's self. The Common Room with its ping-pong table and inviting sofa proved very popular, but the li—oh well, that would be telling too much.

The refreshments were served in Mrs. Williams' apartment and the program, which consisted of some twelve numbers, was sufficiently varied to relieve any monotony and was completed around twelve o'clock. The music, which figured prominently in the evening's entertainment, was very kindly, exquisitely, and generously served by a five-piece orchestra under the leadership of T. B. Patterson, and livened up matters considerably.

Two breaks of a different character occurred during the course of the evening. The first was in the nature of a presentation to Mrs. Williams by the Students' Council of the Presbyterian College and the student body in general of a beautifully wrought silver vase tendered in appreciation of her great kindness and general solicitude for the welfare of the men. President J. W. Clarke in making the presentation remarked that Mrs. Williams had been with the College for three years during which period she had made unwearying efforts in behalf of the men and had obtained a very high place in their esteem. The second break was the entrance of a parade of Loyal Orange Lodge No. 59, bearing a characteristic banner and led by the irrepressible Lew Anderson, who had just before presented the President with a beautiful cabbage as a reward for his hard work this year.

The party finally broke up around midnight with God Save the King and cheers for the orchestra and for Mrs. Williams. Laden down with spoils in the shape of captured balloons, surreptitiously appropriated flags, and yards of entangled streamers, in short all the articles eagerly sought after by the fair and ardent souvenir hunters, the couples wended their way towards the damsels' respective homes, a trifle wearied but thoroughly happy.

CHANGE MADE IN ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Constitution Is Altered at Meeting

MANAGERS' DUTIES

Correspondence Filing System Is Developed

Extensive revisions of the constitution were discussed by the Athletic Association at a meeting held over the week-end.

The most important changes effected dealt with the duties of managers, and the centralization of correspondence and purchasing. Managers are to be held responsible for all equipment, arrangements concerning games and trips, and the condition of training quarters and playing fields, etc.

All purchasing must be done by the manager or president of the club concerned, and must be authorized by the secretary of the Students' Council.

These regulations will reduce to a minimum needless expenditures and lax attention to equipment.

All correspondence pertaining to athletics must be carried on through the Athletic Association's office, and will be kept on file in this office.

Two amendments to the constitution dealing with insignia were passed.

First.—The members of the City League championship indoor baseball team will in future receive Small Plain "M."

Second.—The winners of the Wicksteed competition will receive Small Plain "M."

Members of the intercollegiate gymnastic team will receive large plain M should they win the championship and small plain M should they be unsuccessful in attaining the title.

An amendment was also carried which states that in future the secretary of the Students' Council shall also be the secretary of the Athletic Association. The onerous duties accompanying the position of secretary, especially under the new system of centralized correspondence and purchasing, requires more time than a student can afford to give to the position. The secretary of the Students' Council, who authorizes all purchasing and issuing of equipment, must be thoroughly cognizant of all matters pertaining to athletics, and his position of secretary of the Athletic Association will insure this being the case.

The question of granting the B.W. & F. recognition as a major sport was thoroughly discussed. The executive decided that, under the present system of granting athletic insignia, the B.W. & F. could not be granted major sport privileges in preference to other minor sports such as basketball, swimming, tennis, etc.

A committee was therefore formed consisting of R. H. Foss, C. Ramsay and Dr. Lamb, which will study the matter of awards during the summer vacation, and submit to the Athletic Association proposals for the revision of the present system of awards.

ONLY A THOUSAND COPIES OF ANNUAL

Juniors Seize 500 Copies of "Old McGill"

The opportunity for the student body outside the Junior class to secure copies of the Annual has at last come. It must be remembered that opportunity is not supposed to come up a second time and this is quite true of the Annual. There are but one thousand copies to be published, and of these the Juniors are to have six hundred. This leaves but a small number indeed for the student body and alumni who are interested in the past year's events.

The circulation of various sheets to which one signs his or her name to in order to secure a copy with the caution money has begun and if reports are true every one will have an opportunity to sign until the publication is gone. The book has gone to press and it will not be long till its dark biscuit cover appears on the campus.

"LE QUARTIER LATIN"

Among the floods of undergraduate literature of all varieties which percolate into the "Daily" office week by week and day by day, there is one publication which cannot but attract attention by reason of its linguistic uniqueness if for no other cause, and this is the weekly student-publication of our very nearest academic neighbor—the Université de Montréal.

The name itself is most appropriate, for there is something delightfully exotic about the whole thing, something that smacks of the Sorbonne rather than of Quebec or of the French section of this city. Of course "Le Quartier Latin" enjoys all the advantages of a weekly publication—the possibility of revision both in matter and make-up, but there is something more. No edition of our interesting contemporary would be complete for instance without a formidable fragment of surprisingly good French verse on the front page. The whole thing gives an impression of being an effort in the direction of literary good taste. Even when Monsieur le Redacteur-en-Chef publishes a little volume of youthful verse his first attempts to woo his Muse are reviewed according to the best traditions of the Revue des Deux Mondes. But the most creditable feature about "Le Quartier Latin" is its fearless championship of a cause, which must always demand the sympathy of every student, be he English or French, whose good fortune it is to reside in this Province, and that is the maintenance of the old language and culture in what was at one time New France.

Even the sacred person of a McGill professor is not secure if he dare to glorify Ontario not wisely but too well or suggest that the Quebecois are not every bit as "Canadian" as their neighbors. Quite recently a well-known professor in the Faculty of Arts did this in the course of a magazine article. As a result in the editorial column of the most recent number of the "Quartier Latin" Monsieur le Professeur de McGill is reminded that his claim to Canadianism is probably more recent by at least two centuries than that of the people whose nationality he appears to impugn.

Well done, "Quartier Latin". There can never be too many voices raised in protest against even a seeming attempt to disparage either of the two great races upon which Canada is built. It is not very far from St. Denis Street to Sherbrooke St. West, but in reality the division in spirit and purpose should be even less between McGill and the Université de Montréal, between "The only College Daily in Canada" and quite one of the most fascinating weekly student-paper on the Continent.

PHYSICAL EDS BEAT MAC. IN BASKETBALL

In a very patchy game on Saturday morning the M.S.P.E. first team won from Macdonald College in basketball by a score of 65-34. Miss Flannagan and Miss Duff-Stuart both played excellent games, scoring an equal number of goals. Miss Duff-Stewart was successful in several of her difficult long shots. Miss Lemesurier made practically all the goals for Macdonald. Miss Argue, Miss Bain and Miss Gardner worked some very pretty combinations.

In the second half Miss Blachford was knocked out and was replaced by Miss Maule.

At half-time the score was 23-18 for M.S.P.E., with the final score at 65-34. Miss Cartwright and Mrs. Hobbs refereed. The line-up:

Macdonald	M.S.P.E.
Forwards
Miss Lemesurier	Miss Duff-Stuart
Miss Phelps	Miss Flanagan
Centres
Miss Milne	Miss Gardner
Miss Lafferty	Miss Lawford
Guards
Miss Laing	Miss Argue
Miss Blachford	Miss Bain

Miss Maule	Miss Munro

Physical Eds will play their final game of basketball with the Alumni on March 27 in the High School gym.

THE OREGON SCHOOL

The high standard of work offered by the school of architecture of the University of Oregon has been brought out in the annual report of Dean Ellis F. Lawrence to President Campbell. Many facts and statements of the department of architecture and allied arts are given ,telling of the work now being accomplished and the aims of the school.

The number of major students in these departments now totals 119, representing an increase of 60 per cent over last year. This number greatly overcrowds the room space and taxes the limited number of instructors. So crowded have the classes become that it has been necessary to move some of the classes in normal arts to the low storied, poorly lighted basement, which was formerly the locker room of the old gymnasium.

Dean Lawrence points out that the rapid growth of the school has come as a result of the investigation and reports of visiting judges and architects. There has been no advertising or special bulletin issued by the department since 1918. The general announcement of courses, issued by the University, is the only advertising the courses have had.

Despite this fact students are coming from a number of outside states, and constant inquiries form Oregonians indicate that there will be another large increase of enrollment next year.

Word has already been received from a Tacoma architect that he is sending three students from his office for work in the architecture school next year. This decision came after a thorough investigation of all coast schools. A Californian choose Oregon, after an investigation of the California schools. At present there is one student in the department from Iowa; still another came from Washington

Several Californians are at present corresponding with Professor Schroff about entering next year for his work in fine arts. Avard Fairbanks who offers the only professional work in sculpture north of San Francisco, has 70 students enrolled. Five students are now specializing in sculpture. Several more are expected next year.

In his report Dean Lawrence asks for immediate relief in his department, both for more rooms and a larger staff of instructors. Unless this is done at once, he says, it will be necessary to control the enrollment in some manner. A high standard for grades is maintained already and fees have been applied wherever possible. Unless the situation is relieved, however, it will be necessary to apply a tuition fee. This will be applied only as a last resort, it is explained.

PEPYS AT McGILL

Sunday, March 19.—(Lord's Day.)—Yesterday in the evening to see the Frenche players of these colleges in their antics at the great building where the women students are housed, and much diverted in the spaces between the turns by one among the musicians who trolled upon a droll little instrument fashioned very like a bicycle pump, which gave forth a very pleasing, querulous sort of sound, and as for the plays themselves the actors did speak their lines at such a pace that I was often at great pains to gain their meaning, for my knowledge of that courtly tongue goes not to such lengths. After a little when the playing was done down to a lower hall where there was dancing to a musick, and there I was witless enough to dance with the certain among the actresses, who had not observed a proper caution in banishing the paint from off their visages, and they inclining their heads toward me in fond fashion I was soon besmeared with a great variety of ungeants. So all this morning to the task of washing this stuff from my hair, which I found to be almost beyond my powers, and in such a fashion that I could not attend at Church, which had been my earnest desire. Henceforward I shall do well to keep an wary weather eye upon all of the quality of play-actresses.

McGILL C.O.T.C., ANNUAL INSPECTION.

The annual inspection by the Inspector General of Canadian Militia, Lt.-General Sir Henry Burstall, K.C.B., K.C.M.G., Brig.-Gen. C. J. Dress, drill order, with rifle and bayonet. Exemption from this parade can only be granted in cases where special application is made to the Orderly Room, and where a medical certificate is produced. After the parade there will be a supper and smoking concert.

A LITTLE MIXED

Some American exchanges are under the impression that McGill is situated in the Queen City; and Professor Leacock says the ideas of many people whom he met in dear old England prove that McGill has practically annexed Toronto. The opinion must be rapidly gaining ground for now the accurate and dependable "Literary Digest", in the British Empire Number, quotes "Dean Adams of McGill University (Toronto)" in a long article entitled "Canada, Land of Potentialities."

But the whole box he took

Or at least it's awfully sad.

HENRY MORGAN & CO. LIMITED

C-L-O-T-H-E-S
---and their owners

An old maxim says: "People are known by the friends they make," but maxims, like everything else, change, and now we say: "People are known by the clothes they wear, and rightly so.

The man who is not particular, buys his clothes anywhere, but the particular man — the man who wants good value, style, and finish — the discriminating man, in fact — selects his clothes at Morgan's.

At Morgan's, for instance, one may select

Ties---
says the discriminating man, "must be new." They must show harmonious color alliances that will not clash with the shade of the suit. Just such ties — flowing-end or silk-knitted — are priced at 1.15.

Gloves---
must be worn not only for protection, but for style as well. The well-dressed man preferably selects tan cape gloves. These are shown with cadet or regular fingers and will give excellent service, besides looking extremely smart. Price 2.00 a pair.

Hats---
They must be distinctive, and they must look well. These two functions are well carried out by the famous Italian Borsalino hats. These have just been received, and are decidedly new. Price 9.00.

Boots---
You may look for fashion, but the first step towards fashion must be taken in comfortable boots. Just such boots of reliable quality are made of brown and black calf, or black kid. Sizes 6 to 10½. Price 8.00 a pair.

Suits and Overcoats

The balmy breeze that Spring has brought from some warm clime catches the wavering mind, and turns its thoughts in the direction of new Spring clothes. And when thinking of new Spring clothes, you immediately think of Morgan's Store for Men.

There are clothes for the conservative man and for the young man. There's individuality in them. Every young fellow will find his particular type in real models that show lots of swing and dash, as well as distinction and dignity. All the latest models in suits and top coats for Spring wear are priced from 25.00 up.

Quite recently a well-known professor in the Faculty of Arts did this in the course of a magazine article. As a result in the editorial column of the most recent number of the "Quartier Latin" Monsieur le Professeur de McGill is reminded that his claim to Canadianism is probably more recent by at least two centuries than that of the people whose nationality he appears to impugn.

Well done, "Quartier Latin". There can never be too many voices raised in protest against even a seeming attempt to disparage either of the two great races upon which Canada is built. It is not very far from St. Denis Street to Sherbrooke St. West, but in reality the division in spirit and purpose should be even less between McGill and the Université de Montréal, between "The only College Daily in Canada" and quite one of the most fascinating weekly student-paper on the Continent.

PHYSICAL EDS BEAT MAC. IN BASKETBALL

In a very patchy game on Saturday morning the M.S.P.E. first team won from Macdonald College in basketball by a score of 65-34. Miss Flannagan and Miss Duff-Stuart both played excellent games, scoring an equal number of goals. Miss Duff-Stewart was successful in several of her difficult long shots. Miss Lemesurier made practically all the goals for Macdonald. Miss Argue, Miss Bain and Miss Gardner worked some very pretty combinations.

In the second half Miss Blachford was knocked out and was replaced by Miss Maule.

At half-time the score was 23-18 for M.S.P.E., with the final score at 65-34. Miss Cartwright and Mrs. Hobbs refereed. The line-up:

Macdonald	M.S.P.E.
Forwards
Miss Lemesurier	Miss Duff-Stuart
Miss Phelps	Miss Flanagan
Centres
Miss Milne	Miss Gardner
Miss Lafferty	Miss Lawford
Guards
Miss Laing	Miss Argue
Miss Blachford	Miss Bain
Spares
Miss Maule	Miss Munro

Physical Eds will play their final game of basketball with the Alumni on March 27 in the High School gym.

THE OREGON SCHOOL

The high standard of work offered by the school of architecture of the University of Oregon has been brought out in the annual report of Dean Ellis F. Lawrence to President Campbell. Many facts and statements of the department of architecture and allied arts are given, telling of the work now being accomplished and the aims of the school.

The number of major students in these departments now totals 119, representing an increase of 60 per cent over last year. This number greatly overcrowds the room space and taxes the limited number of instructors. So crowded have the classes become that it has been necessary to move some of the classes in normal arts to the low storied, poorly lighted basement, which was formerly the locker room of the old gymnasium.

Dean Lawrence points out that the rapid growth of the school has come as a result of the investigation and reports of visiting judges and architects. There has been no advertising or special bulletin issued by the department since 1918. The general announcement of courses, issued by the University, is the only advertising the courses have had.

Despite this fact students are coming from a number of outside states, and constant inquiries form Oregonians indicate that there will be another large increase of enrollment next year.

Word has already been received from a Tacoma architect that he is sending three students from his office for work in the architecture school next year. This decision came after a thorough investigation of all coast schools. A Californian choose Oregon, after an investigation of the California schools. At present there is one student in the department from Iowa; still another came from Washington

Several Californians are at present corresponding with Professor Schroff about entering next year for his work in fine arts. Avard Fairbanks, who offers the only professional work in sculpture north of San Francisco, has 70 students enrolled. Five students are now specializing in sculpture. Several more are expected next year.

In his report Dean Lawrence asks for immediate relief in his department, both for more rooms and a larger staff of instructors. Unless this is done at once, he says, it will be necessary to control the enrollment in some manner. A high standard for grades is maintained already and fees have been applied wherever possible. Unless the situation is relieved, however, it will be necessary to apply a tuition fee. This will be applied only as a last resort, it is explained.

AT THE SING

The singing of Miss Alma Jackson, accompanied by Miss Dorothy Cross, was the most charming feature of the "Sing" at Strathcona Hall last night. Miss Hibbard of the Faculty of Music and Brittain of Medicine also sang.

PEPYS AT McGILL

Sunday, March 19.—(Lord's Day.)—Yesterday in the evening to see the Frenche players of these colleges in their antics at the great building where the women students are housed, and much diverted in the spaces between the turns by one among the musicians who trolled upon a droll little instrument fashioned very like a bicycle pump, which gave forth a very pleasing, querulous sort of sound, and as for the plays themselves the actors did speak their lines at such a pace that I was often at great pains to gain their meaning, for my knowledge of that courtly tongue goes not to such lengths. After a little when the playing was done down to a lower hall where there was dancing to a musick, and there I was witless enough to dance with the certain among the actresses, who had not observed a proper caution in banishing the paint from off their visages, and they inclining their heads toward me in fond fashion I was soon besmeared with a great variety of ungeants. So all this morning to the task of washing this stuff from my hair, which I found to be almost beyond my powers, and in such a fashion that I could not attend at Church, which had been my earnest desire. Henceforward I shall do well to keep an wary weather eye upon all of the quality of play-actresses.

McGILL C.O.T.C., ANNUAL INSPECTION.

The annual inspection by the Inspector General of Canadian Militia, Lt.-General Sir Henry Burstall, K.C.B., K.C.M.G., Brig.-Gen. C. J. Armstrong, C.B., C.M.G., will take place at the High School, on Tuesday, 21st of March. Every member of theMcGill C.O.T.C. must be on parade at 7.30 p.m. prompt. Dress, drill order, with rifle and bayonet. Exemption from this parade can only be granted in cases where special application is made to the Orderly Room, and where a medical certificate is produced. After the parade there will be a supper and smoking concert.

A LITTLE MIXED

Some American exchanges are under the impression that McGill is situated in the Queen City; and Professor Leacock says the ideas of many people whom he met in dear old England prove that McGill has practically annexed Toronto. The opinion must be rapidly gaining ground for now the accurate and dependable "Literary Digest", in the British Empire Number, quotes "Dean Adams of McGill University (Toronto)" in a long article entitled "Canada, Land of Potentialities."

But the whole box he took
And didn't sober up for a week.—

Broke, broke, broke,
And the term has just begun—
And I would the old man would hustle
Along with a little mon.

Oh, it's hard on the Sophomore
For somebody's sister is mad—
And it's hell for the freshie boy
Or at least it's awfully sad.

Broke, broke, broke,
And the term has just begun
And I cannot afford the butter
To eat with my lonely bun.

HENRY MORGAN & CO. LIMITED

C-L-O-T-H-E-S
---and their owners

An old maxim says: "People are known by the friends they make," but maxims, like everything else, change, and now we say: "People are known by the clothes they wear, and rightly so.

The man who is not particular, buys his clothes anywhere, but the particular man — the man who wants good value, style, and finish — the discriminating man, in fact — selects his clothes at Morgan's.

At Morgan's, for instance, one may select

says the discriminating man, "must be new." They must show harmonious color alliances that will not clash with the shade of the suit. Just such ties — flowing-end or silk-knitted — are priced at 1.15.

Gloves---

must be worn not only for protection, but for style as well. The well-dressed man preferably selects tan cape gloves. These are shown with cadet or regular fingers and will give excellent service, besides looking extremely smart. Price 2.00 a pair.

Hats---

They must be distinctive, and they must look well. These two functions are well carried out by the famous Italian Borsalino hats. These have just been received, and are decidedly new. Price 9.00.

Boots---

You may look for fashion, but the first step towards fashion must be taken in comfortable boots. Just such boots of reliable quality are made of brown and black calf, or black kid. Sizes 6 to 10½. Price 8.00 a pair.

Suits and Overcoats

The balmy breeze that Spring has brought from some warm clime catches the wavering mind, and turns its thoughts in the direction of new Spring clothes. And when thinking of new Spring clothes, you immediately think of Morgan's Store for Men.

There are clothes for the conservative man and for the young man. There's individuality in them. Every young fellow will find his particular type in real models that show lots of swing and dash, as well as distinction and dignity. All the latest models in suits and top coats for Spring wear are priced from 25.00 up.

CONCERT BY GLEE CLUB ON THURSDAY

To Start at 8.30 in the Royal Victoria College

The soloists at the Glee Club concert are to be Miss Muriel Anderson of the Conservatorium, and E. A. Sherrard, of Sci. '23. The executive are very pleased to be able to announce this, as it will certainly add to the enjoyment of the evening, if possible. Miss Hurlbatt, Sir Arthur Currie, and Mr. E. W. Beatty are lending their patronage to this serious attempt to re-establish the traditions of an old established organization, and as will be seen from the program the numbers are of a very real musical merit, while popular enough to be known by all. Students are reminded that if they do not buy the special students' tickets, on sale at the various buildings, they will be required to pay eighty-five cents at the door. The program follows:

1.—Hail, Alma Mater.
2.—Orchestra, "Menuet" (Military Symphony) (Hadyn).
3.—Part Songs—(a) "Boot and Saddle" (Granville Bantock; (b) "Annie Laurie" (arranged by H. Elliot Button).

7.—Folk Songs: (Scottish) "Over the Sea to Skye"; (North Country) "John Peel"; (Cheshire) "The Keys of Heaven."

CONFLICT OF EXAMINATIONS AND LACROSSE

Expense Too Great and Date Too Late

NUMEROUS CAUSES

Oxford-Cambridge Game Not to Be Held

McGill will not play the combined Oxford-Cambridge lacrosse team this spring.

This decision was arrived at by the Athletic Association on Saturday, at a special meeting held to discuss the question.

There is at present no organization in McGill for the purpose of managing, equipping and training a lacrosse team. The establishment of such an organization at the present time would entail the expenditure of more time and money than the students can afford.

Lacrosse is a strenuous pastime, requiring many weeks of rigorous training and conditioning from those playing the game; therefore, due to the approaching examinations, few men can be found in the university who are able to devote the necessary time either to the executive work or the actual playing connected with the game.

Besides the guarantee requested by the sponsors of the Oxford-Cambridge team, considerable additional expenditure would be involved in equipping, training and coaching a McGill team besides the expense connected with the actual staging of the game.

The only open date in the schedule of the Blue team is Monday, May 1. A game played on Monday never draws a large crowd in Montreal and it is very improbable that the receipts from this game would provide a very large percentage of the expenditure involved.

An earlier date is unobtainable, and would, if secured, be unsuitable, due to insufficient training and the proximity of exams. The only later date submitted is in the midst of the Medical exams, so that May 1 is the only date discussed.

The executive have therefore written to Syracuse, informing them of McGill's inability to play the combined Oxford-Cambridge lacrosse team during the present season, and expressing regret that the university finds it impossible to combat the English team in Canada's national summer pastime.

A Revolution in The Method of Buying Your Clothes

—and Cummings Clothes Shop is showing the way

Present day methods of buying clothes are antiquated. They do not answer your needs or the need of the times. So here is good news—news YOU will APPRECIATE and be interested in!

We have just inaugurated a new department. A department to enable you to finance your clothes buying just as the merchant does his. Present conditions demand this convenience, and we are the first to show the way.

We want you to open a CUMMINGS CLOTHES ACCOUNT by depositing as small amount as you can afford weekly. Then contine to deposit a like sum each week. In the meantime, come in and select your suit or top-coat. Choose from our entire stock at our regular prices, which are shown in PLAIN FIGURES.

When the sum you have deposited amounts to one-half what you have purchased—come—take your clothes and pay the balance by continuing to deposit as before. For immediate use, pay one-half of your purchase and balance weekly.

This plan is originated to enable you to buy your clothes AS YOU NEED THEM, regardless of whether you have the ready cash or not, and to buy them at EXACTLY the same price as though you paid cash.

Not a cent of premium for this service! Just another evidence of our real-value-human-service! Another reason why you simply can't afford to buy your clothes elsewhere!

And, keep this in mind! You are dealing with a responsible organization — not a fly-by-night so-called suit club that can disappear overnight! You are dealing with an organization that must and wants to satisfy YOU—not one that gives empty promises that are never fulfilled and never were meant to be!

And you can't lose! That's the big point to remember! If at any time conditions necessitate, you may withdraw all you have deposited.

Surely nothing could be fairer! Join today. If you can't come in—'phone us—and we'll have our representative call. BE SURE—SO DO IT NOW!

In the third inning Puddicombe scored the only tally chalked up for McGill. This proved to be a disastrous frame for the Whites as Macdonald crossed the plate five times in their half of the third due to quite a number of safe hits and also wild throws on the part of the visitors.

From this point until the end of the seventh inning the staff remained in the lead and appeared to be playing winning ball. However, the Whites had by this time become more at home and by means of battery rallies in the eighth and ninth innings succeeded in winning a very hard fought and interesting game.

The umpiring was well looked after by Prof. Barton of Macdonald and Harding of McGill.

The teams lined up as follows:

McGill Whites	Macdonald Staff
Catcher
Peacock	Ness
Pitcher
Philpotts	Summerby
First Base
Wight	Raymond
Second Base
Moore	Hislop
Third Base
Dreger	Amaron
Shortstop
Grassick	McOuat
Puddicombe	Conklin
Left Field
McLaughlin	Hodge
Right Field
Radway	Duporte
Sub
Longley

Umpires—Barton and Harding.
Scorer—Procter.

The McGill Reds are now leading in the City and District League with the Whites a close second.

APPOINTMENT OF McGILL GRADUATE

Dr. Grace Ritchie England has recently been appointed by the Canadian Government to represent Canada at the Pan-American Conference of Women that is to be held in Baltimore from April 20 to 29. This is undoubtedly one of the highest honors awarded to a woman graduate of McGill in some years as it is the object of this conference to do much to make the various countries more acquainted with various movements of interest to women that are taking place.

A better understanding and more friendliness between the several countries is the most prominent issue that they hope to promote. Dr. England is a graduate of Medicine as well as of Arts and haa always been active in many organizations connected with the college.
